Microsoft Teams Chat functions

We have had several questions about using the chat function within Teams so here is a handy guide.

Are we allowed to use the chat function?

Yes, but at the right time and place. In your Team above the daily 'hidden' channels there is a channel called General. In here you can use this like your playground to chat to others in your year group. But remember EVERYONE can see what you post, children, pupils and parents so be nice to each other. Any rule breaking and the channel will be removed.

When can we use it?

Your teachers may give you an allotted time around a break or end of lesson to chat with your friends but remember you need to go to the right days channel to carry on your daily lessons at the right time.

What about private messages?

Stick to the general chat area please. If you have joined any chats you must leave them.

What should I do if I get a message I don't like?

In the same way you would tell a teacher at breaktime if someone wasn't being kind, you can do the same online. Take a screenshot of the message and send it to your class teacher. They can then deal with it appropriately. Remember, if you abuse this and aren't kind to others, we may need to block your ability to message others so always use kind words.

Why are we allowing the chat function?

Two reasons

1 - It allows the children to talk and 'meet' each other in a safe environment where the adults have a control over the internet. This avoids them going onto social media sites that are not as controlled (Snapchat, Instagram etc) and prevents them feeling as isolated as they could do.

2 - It gives us a chance to teach them Internet safety and internet 'manners' in a safe environment so that if mistakes are made, they can be learned from and make the children ready to be responsible digital citizens in later life.
